

The 7th Asia Future Conference

Announcement of AFC Special Subsidy For scholars from Indonesia, Philippines and Vietnam

The AFC Special Subsidies are made possible through special donations. This is a separate application process from the AFC paper submission and AFC Scholarship application. While you will submit your abstract/paper and apply for the participation through the AFC website as usual, you need to apply separately for the AFC Special Subsidy. The selection will be made separately. If you are awarded the AFC Special Subsidy, you will not be awarded the AFC Scholarship. Qualifications, quality of paper, good standing in one's home institution and the necessity of receiving the subsidy will be considered in the selection.

DESCRIPTION:

The AFC Special Subsidy will waive both registration and accommodation fees (shared room) and the recipients will receive $300 in cash at the conference venue to partially cover travel cost.

ELIGIBILITY:

- Holds nationality of designated country and lives in the same country. Designated countries are Indonesia, Philippines and Vietnam (10 researchers from each country to be selected).
- Has submitted the abstract online to the AFC by August 31, 2023 and has been accepted for presentation.
- Does not have any other subsidy from the AFC or other institutions for participating in AFC#7.
- Those who have been awarded AFC Special Subsidies in the past are not eligible. Previous recipients of the AFC Scholarship are eligible.
- Has a good standing in their home institution (i.e. completing work in a timely manner; no academic probation, etc.) which is proven by a recommendation letter from their supervisor.

AFC SPECIAL SUBSIDY APPLICATION GUIDELINES:

Submit the following information and a short recommendation letter from your supervisor to the contact for your country between November 1 and November 30, 2023:

- A) Full name:
- B) Date of birth:
